Help bring a new middle-grade fantasy to life

Have you ever wondered what it's like to read a book before it's published?

Poster created for the Bulletin Board

About the book:

- Ages 8–12
- Indian mythology meets fantasy and adventure
- Four children embark on a magical journey through the stories of the Indian Mythology, discovering courage, friendship, and the sparks within themselves.

I'm seeking thoughtful readers who enjoy children's literature and are willing to share honest feedback on the story, characters, pacing, and overall reading experience.

Parents, teachers, librarians, middle-grade readers, and fans of fantasy are especially welcome.

If you're interested in helping shape a new book before publication, I'd love to hear from you!
